The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://l10n.gnome.org/teams/id/>. The page features the "Damned Lies" logo and a navigation menu with "Home", "Teams", "Languages", "Release sets", and "Modules". The "Teams" menu item is selected. The main heading is "Indonesian Translation Team". Below this, there is a paragraph in Indonesian: "Mohon memberitahu ke milis gnome-l10n-id@googlegroups.com juga ketika memulai penerjemahan suatu modul dan ketika telah mengunggah hasil terjemahannya." followed by "Silakan lihat http://wiki.andika.info/L10n/GNOME/Modul_Prioritas untuk daftar prioritas penerjemahan." The page is divided into two columns. The left column has a "Details" section with "Indonesian Translation Team Page:" and a link to <http://wiki.andika.info/wiki/L10n/GNOME>, and a "Bugzilla:" section with links to "Report Bug in Translation" and "Show Existing Bugs". The right column has a "Coordinator" section with a profile picture of Andika Triwidada and contact information: "Andika Triwidada", "Web: <http://andika-lives-here.blogspot.com/>", "Email address: andika at gmail dot com", "IRC account: andika", and "Bugzilla account: gnome at i15n dot org".

About engagement-list English (USA)

To see the collection of prior postings to the list, visit the engagement-list Archives.

Using engagement-list

To post a message to all the list members, send email to engagement-list@gnome.org.

You can subscribe to the list, or change your existing subscription, in the sections below.

Subscribing to engagement-list

Subscribe to engagement-list by filling out the following form. You will be sent email requesting confirmation, to prevent others from gratuitously subscribing you. This is a hidden list, which means that the list of members is available only to the list administrator.

Your email address:

Your name (optional):

You may enter a privacy password below. This provides only mild security, but should prevent others from messing with your subscription. Do not use a valuable password as it will occasionally be emailed back to you in cleartext.

If you choose not to enter a password, one will be automatically generated for you, and it will be sent to you once you've confirmed your subscription. You can always request a mail-back of your password when you edit your personal options.

Engagement mailing list

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar containing the URL `https://mail.gnome.org/archives/engagement-list/2015-May/thread.html`. The page header features the GNOME logo and the text "GNOME MAIL SERVICES". A navigation bar includes links for "Home", "Mailing Lists", and "List Archives", along with a search box. The main content area is titled "2015-May Archive by Thread" and includes sorting options: "Messages sorted by: [Thread] [Date] [Author]" and a link for "Other months". A paragraph explains that messages are ordered newest-to-oldest. Another paragraph clarifies the thread structure: the first mail note is the start, and within a thread, the oldest is at the top. A note suggests following the flow if confusing. A list of messages follows, starting with "GNOME Asia Summit news item" by Oliver Propst, which has several replies: "Re: GNOME Asia Summit news item" by Emily Chen, "Re: GNOME Asia Summit news item" by Oliver Propst, and "Re: GNOME Asia Summit news item" by Alexandre Franke. At the bottom, it says "Mail converted by MHonArc".

2015-May Archive by Thread

- Messages sorted by: [Thread] [Date] [Author]
- Other months

Messages are ordered newest-to-oldest in this index. The newest threads will be at the top of this page, the oldest will be at the bottom.

Within a single thread, the first mail note is the START of the thread; the notes following that are in the chronological order of when they were received. So globally, newest messages are at the top, but within a thread, the oldest (the start of the thread) is at the top.

If you think about it, it is confusing. Just go with the flow and everything will be all right.

Art requests

<https://wiki.gnome.org/Design/ArtRequests>

This page exists so we can keep track of all the artwork and design request we get for GNOME.

For developers

Add a new entry in the "Request list" below. Create a new page where you specify the type of graphic you need and any details (bugzilla url, design suggestions, url to project website etc), and contact info (email and irc are good) so an artist/designer can get in contact with you if there's any information they need to create the graphics.

For artists

Pick a request you want to work on, add your name to it and change the status from Open to In progress. When the task is done you can mark it as done.
